The IATA World Maintenance & Engineering Symposium (WMES) is a newly launched IATA event dedicated to addressing the challenges, advancing innovation, safety, and efficiency in aircraft maintenance and engineering. This symposium will bring together global aviation Tech Ops professionals and industry leaders to address current challenges, explore emerging technologies, regulatory developments, and best practices shaping the future of aircraft maintenance.

Through insightful sessions, collaborative discussions, workshops, and networking opportunities, the event aims to foster knowledge exchange and drive excellence across the aviation maintenance and engineering ecosystem.
